Culpeper Wants Camp.

[Special to The Times-Dispetch,]

CULPEPER, VA., January 22.—In the selection of a location for the perminent State incampent and rifle range. Culpeper offers one of the best sites for it in the State. The place is about one mile from the raliroad, and near the town, with streams of running water and three wells of the purest freestone water, taking in the south side of Mount Tony. Which is about 300 feet high, and could be shot into without affecting any objects of the surrounding country, with a level range of at least a mile. The county is entirely free from any form of malaria, mosquitoes or any of the other pests which afflict humanity. The Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern and Norfolk and Western Railroads bring passengers here from all parts of Virginia.
